Ode to Joy

Friedrich Schiller

Joy, beautiful spark of the gods, Daughter of Elysium, We enter, drunk with fire, Heavenly, thy sanctuary!

Thy magic binds again What custom's harsh decree has parted; All mankind become brothers Underneath thy gentle wings.

Do Not Go Gentle into That Good Night

Dylan Thomas

Do not go gentle into that good night, Old age should burn and rave at close of day; Rage, rage against the dying of the light.

Though wise men at their end know dark is right, Because their words had forked no lightning they Do not go gentle into that good night.

The Love Song of J. Alfred Prufrock

T.S. Eliot

Let us go then, you and I, When the evening is spread out against the sky
Like a patient etherized upon a table;

Let us go, through certain half-deserted streets, The muttering retreats Of restless nights in one-night cheap hotels And sawdust restaurants with oyster-shells:

These are just a few glimpses into the extraordinary world that awaits you within our Collection of Poems. Dive into its pages and discover the limitless power of verse. Let its words ignite your imagination, heal your wounds, and inspire you to live life to the fullest.
