Meet the Divine Pantheon of Olympians

- Zeus: The almighty king of the gods, ruler of Mount Olympus and wielder of thunderbolts.
- Hera: Zeus's majestic queen, protector of marriage and women, and mistress of the gods.
- Poseidon: The powerful god of the sea, earthquakes, and storms, ruler of the watery depths.
- Athena: The wise and courageous goddess of war, wisdom, crafts, and strategic warfare.
- Apollo: The radiant god of music, poetry, prophecy, healing, and archery.
- Artemis: Apollo's twin sister, the fierce and independent goddess of the hunt, wilderness, and childbirth.

- Ares: The formidable god of war, known for his bloodlust and insatiable thirst for battle.
- Aphrodite: The breathtaking goddess of beauty, love, pleasure, and desire.
- Hermes: The swift and cunning messenger of the gods, patron of travelers and merchants.
- Hestia: The humble and gentle goddess of the hearth, home, and family.
- Hades: The enigmatic god of the underworld, ruler of the realm of the dead.
- Demeter: The nurturing goddess of the harvest, agriculture, and the changing seasons.
- Persephone: Demeter's stolen daughter, who spends half the year with Hades in the underworld.
